Spring Commencement | 2024

NORTHWOOD UNIVERSITY

Mission Statement: We develop free-enterprise leaders who drive global economic and social progress.

Vision Statement: We inspire human potential through immersive learning to advance economic freedom, for everyone, everywhere.

Core Values Statement: We affirm the natural yearning in every human heart to be free. Our academic community welcomes individuals, their distinctive talents, and their potential to make a difference through a life well spent. We believe in:

- The advantages of an entrepreneurial, free society
- Individual freedom and personal responsibility
- Leading from a foundation of ethics and integrity
- Embracing the global and multicultural nature of enterprise
- Celebrating individual uniqueness and diversity of perspectives in an inclusive community

Code of Ethics

Northwood students, faculty, and staff affirm this code of ethics that advances our mission, vision, and values.

Freedom

Exercise personal freedom and accountability that uplifts and respects individual freedom for all.

Respect

Treat all others with consideration for their circumstances and with thoughtful regard for their value as human beings.

Empathy

Show compassion for the feelings, thoughts, and conditions of others.

Spirituality

Seek the spiritual development necessary to create our happiness, inspiration, reverence, meaning, and purpose.

Honesty

Embrace truthfulness, fairness, and probity and demand the absence of fraud or deceit in ourselves and others with whom we act.

Achievement

Demonstrate persistence, determination, and effort in order to achieve our goals and applaud the high achievement of others.

Integrity

Be guided by a code of behavior which reflects our values, unimpeded by circumstance, personal gain, public pressure, or private temptation.

Responsibility

Be accountable for the care and welfare of others and responsible for the unintended consequences of our actions.

Common Degree Outcomes

A university education encompasses learning through courses and co-curricular experiences which allow our graduates to achieve Common Degree Outcomes. Our learning community promotes the achievement of six outcomes which become competencies our graduates share.

We measure our success by the outcomes our students achieve.

Our graduates:

1. Articulate and apply the principles and values of freedom and free enterprise.
2. Communicate effectively in speech and writing.
3. Demonstrate critical thinking and problem-solving proficiency.
4. Demonstrate foundational knowledge of the functional areas of business.
5. Demonstrate acumen applied to the global business environment.
6. Demonstrate effective leadership and interpersonal skills.

Attributes

At Northwood, we emphasize qualitative personal development. Through purposeful programming and course offerings, we develop individuals who can explain their personal values; appreciate the aesthetic, creative, and spiritual elements of life; seek lifelong education; and be action-oriented, effective self-evaluators. These attributes encompass our holistic approach to developing the future leaders of a global free-enterprise society.

Significance of the Mace

The mace, carried proudly at the head of our academic procession, is emblematic of the ethics and ideals for which Northwood University stands.

The mace is made of brass for strength and silvered for beauty. The three interlocking pieces total a little over three feet in length and each of the three pieces represents a Northwood University idea. At the top is the flame of learning.

The bottom section is emblematic of the strength of Northwood University's base, co-founders Arthur E. Turner and R. Gary Stauffer. Their names are engraved here as is the founding date.

The two insignia are an acorn and an oak leaf. The acorn symbolizes one of our greatest strengths and richest resources—our young people. The oak leaf implies that the acorn's value is in the tree that grows straight and a fundamental purpose of the Northwood Idea is the productive development of that latent strength.

The middle section stands for our country, with a sheaf of wheat—the rich promise of our land; and the American flag—the emblem of our country's free enterprise principle which turns rich potential into vital yield.

The top section has a plant with blossoms and a cross with the crown and its promise.

When not leading the academic procession, the three tiers can be separated and placed in a walnut base—each tier is designed to hold the flag it symbolizes.

The Northwood mace was designed and donated to the college in its earliest days by Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Whitston of California.

The Flags on Display

The 96 colorful flags displayed on campus represent the countries of Northwood students, both past and present, who have been enrolled on the Michigan Campus since 1990. The students have contributed to an international atmosphere and an opportunity for close personal relationships which lead to special international understanding.

Significance of Academic Regalia

The significance of academic regalia is determined especially by the sleeves and hoods.

Doctors wear the round bell sleeves; the gown is faced down the front and barred on the sleeves with black velvet or color indicating the degree; the doctor's hood is large. The doctor may, if he or she so chooses, wear the gold tassel on his or her cap.

Masters wear the long, closed sleeve, with a slit near the upper part of the arm; the master's hood is of more moderate size.

Bachelors and associates wear the long or pointed sleeve.

Hoods are lined with the colors of the institutions granting the degree, or with which the wearer is connected, and are trimmed with velvet of the color distinctive of the degree—for example, humanities and social science, white; philosophy, blue; science, golden yellow; music, pink; engineering, orange; education, light blue; business and public management, drab; laws, purple.

The navy graduation stole with the white academic seal is worn around the neck to represent student achievement and success.

The red, white and blue cords recognize active military and veteran graduates.

The Gallery of Distinction Honoring Jay Feldman

Kent D. MacDonald
President
Northwood University

The honorary doctorate is the highest award a university can make to an individual who has contributed to society in a meaningful way. We would like to congratulate and honor Jay Feldman, who will be recognized at this ceremony. He will join a “Gallery of Distinction” of past honorary degree awardees who are listed in the back of this program. It is an honor and a privilege to recognize the men and women whom Northwood has vested with degrees over the past 60 years.

Through their accomplishments, ideals, and support, our communities have become better places and our nation has benefited. These leaders have won recognition in business, their professions, fine arts, education, and religion. Their involvement in the advancement of The Northwood Idea will continue forever.

In observance of one of Northwood’s finest traditions, all recipients of honorary degrees are presented with personal academic regalia. Every year they are invited back to participate in the commencement processional, enjoy social events, and renew old friendships.

Northwood University salutes all the members of the Gallery of Distinction and pledges to them the dedicated continuation of The Northwood Idea into the 21st century.

Honorary Doctorate

Mr. Jay Feldman

CEO and Owner of Feldman Auto Group

Jay S. Feldman is the CEO and Owner of Feldman Auto Group, a leading automotive enterprise with 19 dealerships in Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana. Mr. Feldman demonstrates an unwavering commitment to excellence in his multifaceted roles, including dealer operator for most of the group's dealerships. He has proven instrumental in driving the group's sustained success.

A proud alumnus of Northwood University, Mr. Feldman first completed his secondary education at Andover High School in 1988. He graduated from Northwood with a degree in Business and Automotive Marketing in 1992. He further honed his expertise by completing his studies at the NADA Dealer Academy.

Since joining the Feldman dealerships full-time in 1993, Jay has demonstrated an exemplary trajectory of professional growth, rising to Dealer Operator of Jay Chevrolet in 1996. In 2008, he founded Feldman Automotive Inc. Under his leadership, the group has thrived financially, maintained robust relationships with manufacturers, and achieved high customer satisfaction.

Jay's proven performance led to his dealerships being designated as open points in New Hudson by Chevrolet and Hyundai, which opened in 2005 and 2009, respectively. Under his stewardship, the group has expanded its operations to include several new dealerships, notably introducing his first Ford franchise, Feldman Ford of Detroit.

In 2018, Jay forged a new partnership with actor Mark Wahlberg, co-owning six dealerships, including Airstream, in Columbus and Cleveland, Ohio. Most recently in 2023, Feldman Auto Group expanded further by opening a new dealership in Muncie, Indiana.

Beyond his business achievements, Mr. Feldman is deeply committed to philanthropy. Feldman Automotive takes pride in its active role in supporting local communities and charities. This commitment to service reflects Jay's professional ethos and dedication to making a positive impact in the lives of others.

Jay Feldman's generosity, time, and talents include serving as a board member of Tunnel the Towers in New York. The Feldman Automotive Mark Wahlberg Youth Foundation, benefiting the Children's Miracle Network, also holds an annual celebrity golf tournament in Detroit, with as much as $1.6 million raised each year. Now in its fourth year, the Foundation anticipates another great turnout and ongoing support for this great cause.

In recognition of his outstanding contributions to the automotive industry and his impact on organizations and communities, Mr. Jay Feldman is a deserving recipient of Northwood University's highest honor, Doctor of Laws Honoris Causa. As an alumnus, innovator, entrepreneur, philanthropist, and leader, he embodies the values of his alma mater.

Morning Graduation Ceremony

Master of Ceremonies

Dr. Glenn Moots is the Political Science and Philosophy Department Chair at Northwood University. Dr. Moots earned a Ph.D. and two Master of Arts degrees from Louisiana State University, a Master of Science from Walsh College, and a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Michigan. He has taught for Northwood since 1993. He and his wife of thirty years have two children who are now married. His daughter graduated from Northwood. At Northwood University he has served as a Bretzlaff Scholar and a Scholar with Northwood University's McNair Center for the Advancement of Free Enterprise and Entrepreneurship. He is author or editor of two academic press books and author of almost two hundred conference presentations or essays, chapters, and articles published in academic or popular outlets. In 2013-14, he served as a William E Simon Fellow in Religion and Public Life at the James Madison Program in the Department of Politics at Princeton University, and he has also been awarded fellowships from the Earhart Foundation, the Huntington Library, the Jack Miller Center, the Acton Institute, and the Intercollegiate Studies Institute. The campus lecture program he has managed received grants from the Institute for Humane Studies, the Charles Koch Foundation, the Japan Foundation Center for Global Partnership, the Friedman Foundation for Educational Choice, the Jack Miller Center, and the Atlas Economic Research Foundation.

Invocation and Benediction

Elgie Bright is in his 12th year at Northwood University. He serves as Associate Professor and Department Chair for the Automotive Marketing and Management undergraduate program. Elgie is a graduate of the DeVos Graduate School of Management, where he earned an MBA with a concentration in automotive studies. Beloved by students, Elgie was integral in working with General Motors Company and other industry partners to found Full Tank Automotive Camp, an annual summer camp for high schoolers to explore opportunities in the automotive industry.

Lead Marshal

Dr. Patti Timm joined Northwood University as an Assistant Professor of Accounting in 2010. Her professional experience includes over 25 years in a variety of accounting roles and her leadership in community college finance was recognized when she was named National Outstanding Community College Business Leader. Dr. Timm earned a Ph.D. in Management with an Accounting specialization and a research focus in Lean Manufacturing and Lean Accounting. Her dissertation research earned her the Lean Enterprise Institute's Excellence in Lean Accounting Professor award. She has served as Academic Dean for Undergraduate programs since 2015 and is returning to full-time teaching in Fall 2024.

National Anthem Performer

Brooke Gomez is a Saginaw native who serves at the International Program Center Coordinator for International Affairs at Northwood University. She is thrilled to be a part of the Northwood family and enjoys collaborating with colleagues and interacting with the international students on campus. Alongside her professional pursuits, she has dedicated over 15 years to volunteering with Midland Center for the Arts, passionately supporting the local arts community.

Morning Graduation Ceremony

Master of Ceremonies

Dr. Alisha Beckrow, a distinguished academic, serves as the Marketing Degree Program Chair for Northwood University. The department includes the Marketing, Marketing Communications, Merchandising & Fashion, Sales Management, Innovation, and Digital Marketing programs. She holds a PhD in Communication/Media, Society and Culture from Wayne State University, a Master of Arts in Communication/Multimedia from Saginaw Valley State University, and a Bachelor of Arts in Communication/PR/Environmental Studies from Western Michigan University. Dr. Beckrow's extensive research delves into the intricate relationship between media, society, and culture in the marketing, advertising, and communication industries. Her professional journey includes invaluable experiences in marketing agencies, ranging from small firms to Fortune 500 companies. She is currently working toward industry-related certifications to add to her marketing management certification from the American Marketing Association. In the classroom, Dr. Beckrow believes in creating an environment that facilitates student engagement and offers experiential learning opportunities, combining strategic thinking and creativity that builds skills students will use to achieve their professional goals. She is proud to influence the next generation of business leaders who will drive global economic, and social progress.

Invocation and Benediction

Dr. Matthew "Matt" Bennett is the Vice President of Graduate Enrollment and Professional Studies at Northwood University. A successful senior administrator, business strategist and transformational leader, Dr. Bennett specializes in bringing vision, integrity, and energized team leadership to organizations that are seeking high-impact results. At Northwood, he harnesses his two decades in higher education to help grow enrollment in our graduate programs and offerings for aspiring adult learners.

Lead Marshal

Marjorie Knapik was just 19 years old when she was hired as an administrative assistant at the Northwood Institute in 1984. In the following decades, Marjorie witnessed the school's transition to Northwood University, and she has been integral to the success of many departments, including Advancement, Career Services, Academics, and the DeVos Graduate School. In 2007, she added the title of Northwood Alumna to her resume after she graduated with honors. Marjorie will retire later this year to spend more time with her husband of 32 years, Jeff, along with their two sons and their wives and the couple's first granddaughter, who is expected to arrive this summer.

National Anthem Performer

James O'Dell, Assistant Director of Aftermarket Education at Northwood University, has more than 20 years of experience in identifying and capitalizing on market opportunities within the automotive aftermarket. He strives to inspire others through education to maximize their God-given potential in business development, data analysis, strategy, and other disciplines. An a cappella music enthusiast, James has been active in choirs and band, sang in a barbershop quartet, and was the Vice President of Marketing and Public Relations for the Pioneer District of the Barbershop Harmony Society.

Afternoon Graduation Ceremony

Naegele Distinguished Community Service Award

Robert and Patricia Naegele

The Robert and Patricia Naegele Distinguished Community Service Award was started in 2005, and the first recipients of the award were the Naegeles themselves. At that time, Robert had already passed, but Patricia had committed significant funding to the University to renovate what is now known as Naegele Village and to build the new Naegele Drive roadway.

Robert and Patricia became involved with Northwood through their church and began housing NU students from South America. Pat was also a charter member of Town and Campus, and became head of the National Women's Board in 1993. Pat and Robert served on Northwood University's Board of Trustees, and Pat was granted an honorary doctorate in 1996.

The Naegele Distinguished Community Service Award was created as a way to honor the Naegele's significant commitment, and support to Northwood University and its students. Since its inception, the award has recognized individuals from the Midland area who have significantly impacted the local community in a positive way through their volunteer, philanthropic, and advocacy efforts.

The Naegele Award Recipients

David and Carol Williams

Midland, Michigan

Valued supporters of Northwood University, Carol and David Williams, are widely recognized for their mentorship and meaningful connections with student scholarship recipients, which are a testament to their ongoing commitment to the University. Their outstanding professional accomplishments have served as a source of inspiration for numerous Northwood students.

David Williams, hailing from Plymouth, Michigan, earned degrees in accounting and finance from the University of Houston. His long-standing leadership roles within the financial and insurance sectors underscore the significant impact he has had on Northwood over the years. Similarly, Carol's foundation in chemical engineering from Carnegie Mellon University, combined with her executive training at Indiana University, has empowered her to advance Northwood's mission of developing future leaders who drive economic and social progress.

Carol Williams finished her tenure at Dow Chemical Company, headquartered in Midland, Michigan, in early 2015. Over her 34-year career with Dow, she held pivotal roles in research and development, eventually assuming executive leadership positions integral to the company's operations. Notably, she was Executive Vice President of Manufacturing and Engineering, Supply Chain, and Environmental, Health, and Safety Operations.

Among their myriad accolades, Carol was honored as a Northwood University Outstanding Business Leader in 2017 and remains an active Outstanding Business Leader Executive Committee member.

Northwood honors individuals whose lives have contributed to human progress, individual liberty, and economic and social prosperity. This was signified in 2022 when Northwood University recognized David and Carol Williams as recipients of the prestigious Wings of Freedom Award.

HISTORY OF NORTHWOOD UNIVERSITY

1959 Was a Very Good Year

Alaska and Hawaii became states; Jack Nicklaus won the USGA Amateur Championship; the Frisbee debuted; the space race between the United States and the Soviet Union was running at full steam ahead; and Northwood University was born.

As Gary Stauffer and Arthur Turner watched the race to space, they envisioned a new type of university—one where management led the way. While the frontiers of space were revealing their mysteries, Stauffer and Turner understood that all endeavors—technical, manufacturing, marketing, retail, all business types—needed management that could lead the way.

Then and Now

Northwood University educates the managers of the future—skill-savvy, ethically impeccable leaders who know how to get the best from their teams and forge new processes to keep up with the expanding U.S. and global economies. These are the graduates of Northwood.

The Northwood Idea

Northwood began in a 19th-century mansion in Alma, Michigan. In 1993, after years of growth backed by the solid branding of the Northwood identity, Northwood officially became Northwood University. In 1959 and still today, The Northwood Idea of incorporating the teachings of the American free-enterprise system into college classrooms has been an unquestionable success.

Today, we have a full-service residential campus in Midland, Michigan as well as Adult Degree Program centers across the United States. The DeVos Graduate School currently offers programs in Michigan, and online. The University operates International Program Centers in the Peoples' Republic of China, Sri Lanka, Switzerland, and United Arab Emirates.

Experiential Learning

Northwood University is a private, tax-exempt, independent, co-educational, management-oriented university actively allied to business and the arts. Northwood translates its philosophy into practical, useful curricula that are designed to prepare students for the realities of the working world. Northwood brings the business world into the classroom. Professors are successful career professionals who have chosen to direct their business talents toward preparing students for their careers.

Northwood's career curricula are developed in response to the needs of business and industry. Northwood University's curricula offer the most up-to-date programs and information. Practicing business professionals come to the classroom equipped with the most current, relevant descriptions of what is transpiring in today's business world.

Graduates of Northwood have a solid understanding of business and practical, useful management skills. Graduates are successful in immediately becoming a part of the business world and have been prepared for it through Career Services coaching and Foundations classes that begin with orientation and continue throughout their lives.

Northwood friends often remark that businesses are built on confidence, on making markets, on getting people excited, and on facing challenges. The Northwood Idea has never been described more accurately.
