Automotive Aftermarket Management Education

Award Recipient

Robert Roos

President and CEO

The Pronto Network

Robert Roos serves as president and CEO of The Pronto Network, a member-owned automotive distribution group with more than 200 members across North America and $4 billion in annual business. With more than 40 years of industry experience, he brings extensive expertise in sales, marketing, technology, operations and executive management.

A respected industry leader, Robert serves on the boards of APSG, NEXUS International and NEXUS North America. He is a past board member of the National Pronto Association, which honored him with its 2011 Pronto Executive of the Year Award. He has also served as a representative on the Automotive Warehouse Distributors Association Board of Governors.

Robert currently serves on the University of the Aftermarket Board of Trustees and actively supports the Auto Care Association and Young Auto Care Network mentorship initiatives. A graduate of the University of Tennessee, he remains committed to industry collaboration, professional education and developing the automotive aftermarket's next generation of leaders.

WHY NORTHWOOD?

"Northwood has long played a vital role in shaping the future of the automotive aftermarket through its dedication to education, innovation, and industry partnerships. I admire the University's commitment to preparing students to lead with purpose."

For his dedication to the aftermarket industry, Northwood University is pleased to present the Automotive Aftermarket Management Education Award to Robert Roos.

Shawn Senior

Chief Executive Officer

Eastern Warehouse Distributors

Shawn Senior serves as chief executive officer of Eastern Warehouse Distributors, a leading independent automotive aftermarket distributor with more than 1,300 employees and approximately 40 locations across Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Shawn joined Eastern in 2010 as a stock associate and advanced through roles in sales, inventory management, purchasing, product management and operations. He became chief operating officer in 2019, president in 2021 and CEO in 2026. His career reflects a hands-on leadership philosophy grounded in accountability, continuous improvement and employee development.

Shawn holds the Automotive Aftermarket Professional designation and is a graduate of Northwood University's University of the Aftermarket Leadership 2.0 program. He previously served on the Automotive Warehouse Distributors Association Board of Governors and actively supports industry organizations.

His honors include the Auto Care Association's 2023 Impact Award: Four for the Future and Eastern's 2015 Chairman's Award. He remains committed to strengthening the industry through service, innovation and developing future leaders.

WHY NORTHWOOD?

"Northwood's focus on practical business education and developing capable leaders strongly aligns with my own values. I believe in continuous learning and giving people opportunities to grow through meaningful responsibility."

For his dedication to the aftermarket industry, Northwood University is pleased to present the Automotive Aftermarket Management Education Award to Shawn Senior.

Award Recipient

Jessica Toliuszis

Vice President, National Accounts

Highline Warren

Jessica Toliuszis serves as vice president of national accounts at Highline Warren, where she leads relationships with major automotive retailers across North America. She also serves as general manager of the company's Mexico operations, helping establish and expand its presence in the market. Under her leadership, Highline Warren has earned multiple customer honors, including Extra Miler, Vendor of the Year and Partner of the Year awards.

A dedicated advocate for industry advancement, Jessica is a past chair of Women in Auto Care and currently serves on the Auto Care Association's Government Affairs Committee. Her honors include the Auto Care Association's Impact Award and recognition as one of Babcox Media's Women at the Wheel honorees.

A graduate of Northwood University's Infusion executive leadership program, Jessica champions lifelong learning, mentorship and professional development. Her commitment to developing future leaders reflects her passion for strengthening the automotive aftermarket and creating opportunities for others to succeed.

WHY NORTHWOOD?

"Northwood University is creating a passionate pipeline of automotive young professionals to fuel our resilient industry. I had the honor of completing Northwood's Infusion course. The executive-level strategy and international component made this invaluable training for our increasingly global network."

For her dedication to the aftermarket industry, Northwood University is pleased to present the Automotive Aftermarket Management Education Award to Jessica Toliuszis.

Award Recipient

Keith Zar

Managing Partner, Schwartz Advisors

Principal, KAZ Enterprises

Keith Zar brings decades of experience in mergers and acquisitions, corporate law and strategic business development to the automotive aftermarket. His career includes leadership roles at major public and private companies, as well as experience as an investor, advisor, and business owner.

Keith began his career on Wall Street with Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson before serving more than 20 years as general counsel for General Instrument Corporation, Next Level Communications and UCI-FRAM AutoBrands. Throughout his career, he has participated in more than 200 mergers and acquisitions, combining legal expertise with a deep understanding of business operations.

Since joining Schwartz Advisors in 2015, Keith has developed the firm's sell-side practice, helping middle-market automotive aftermarket companies, including many family-owned businesses, navigate successful ownership transitions. His extensive transactional experience and strategic insight have made him a valued advisor to businesses seeking growth, succession and long-term success. He has also been the owner of a small multi-location retail business in Northern California.

WHY NORTHWOOD?

"We need bright, energetic and dedicated individuals to lead us into the critical next generation of our industry. And Northwood is a key player in providing needed opportunities for these individuals. I am also a firm believer in mentorship."

For his dedication to the aftermarket industry, Northwood University is pleased to present the Automotive Aftermarket Management Education Award to Keith Zar.
