

Job Search Resources for Doctoral Students

Find job search sites, general support, strategic recommendations, and advice to support doctoral students in their job search process, below:

Chronicle of Higher Education: Resources for those who are new to the academic job search including topics such as the current job market, CV and cover letters, searching for jobs, and interviewing.

Find a Post Doc: Job board dedicated to new and recently qualified PhDs.

Handshake: Search through thousands of job listings using search terms such as “PhD,” “Postdoc,” or industry terms to identify relevant positions.

HigherEdJobs.com: U.S. and international higher education job opportunities.

HigherEd360.com: Lists open positions at colleges and universities, academic and industry associations for Higher Ed Professionals, Conferences, articles featuring job search topics, and resources for PhDs and Postdoctoral resources.

Inside Higher Ed: Source for higher education jobs, news, and career advice including tips on writing a cover letter for faculty searches.

National Postdoctoral Association: Job board and career development resources.

Ph.D. Jobs Showcases Ph.D. jobs at all types of corporations, academic institutions, and laboratories in all 50 states and worldwide.

Postdocjobs.com: A free postdoctoral job board.

UniversityJobs.com: Job board for postdoctoral and faculty positions.